

SUN?

Illustrated by Suman Maharjan

Rain is fun.

I can run.

I can jump.

It fills the pond.

The mud is fun.

Drips and drops.

I can get a mug of hot drink.

We can read
as it pelts.

We can sing to the rain.

We can talk.

The illustration is a stylized, high-contrast scene in shades of red and orange. A large, bright sun dominates the upper half of the frame. In the foreground, a child is captured in mid-air, jumping joyfully with arms outstretched towards a large, dark silhouette of a bull. The child's body is black, and their limbs are extended in a dynamic, playful pose. The bull is also a dark silhouette, facing the child. In the bottom left corner, a small black silhouette of a cat is visible, looking towards the scene. The background is filled with soft, wavy patterns and small, white, star-like or floral motifs scattered across the red and orange hues. The overall mood is one of joy and celebration.

The sun is up.
The sun is fun as well.

Bookbot books are free, high quality decodable readers based on the order of sounds introduced by the Bookbot Scope & Sequence.

We're delighted to offer them to you to download and print at no cost. But it would be great if you could link to our page www.bookbotkids.com/free-books from your school's website so others can enjoy our free books.

We believe in creating an extensive library of decodable readers to inspire and bring confidence to children learning to read. You can find out about our mission at www.bookbotkids.com.
