

Dragon School

illustrated by William Davis

Dibs stood at the top of his hill to look down at the Dragon School.

Soon, he would be old enough to go.

He could not wait.

So, when he saw one
of the dragons fly
past, he had a go too.

It did not go well, and
he lost his bell.

The bell went bump, bump, bump
down the hill and in the front door of the Dragon School.

Some of the dragons
were in a line.

Dibs saw his bell just at the front of the line.

With a scoop of his tail, one of the dragons had his bell.

And off he went
with Dib's bell.

Dibs was sad.

He told the teacher.

'Will you help me get back my bell?' he asked.

Then the bell
came back!

The bell got stuck in a tree.

It was hard to get up there.

Dibs got his bell back.

He could wait to go back to Dragon School.

Bookbot books are free, high quality decodable readers based on the order of sounds introduced by the Bookbot Scope & Sequence.

We're delighted to offer them to you to download and print at no cost. But it would be great if you could link to our page www.bookbotkids.com/free-books from your school's website so others can enjoy our free books.

We believe in creating an extensive library of decodable readers to inspire and bring confidence to children learning to read. You can find out about our mission at www.bookbotkids.com.
