

Flip, Flop!

illustrated by
Gerda Smit

This is such a sad fish. It does not like the way it is.

The fish stands
up. A rabbit says that he looks like a fool.

He tries to fly
with his fins, but he does not get far.

So much for that. All he can do is swim. He feels glum.

The fish sees a cat. The cat says that he likes fish.

Oh no! The cat
wants to catch him!
He dives back in the sea.

The fish stays in the sea until the cat is gone.

The fish pops up one more time. It finds a frog.

The frog does not want to jump. He wants to learn how to swim.

They have a great day. The frog can watch the fish and then move the same way.

The fish and the frog are there
when the other needs a lift in their day.
