

Mine!

ILLUSTRATED BY GODWIN CHIPENYA

His brother takes his stuff all of the time. He hates it. He just wants to play with his toys when he wants them.

He does not want to fight.

When their mum walks
in to see them at it again, she tells them
both to go to bed.

He does not think that is fair.

He fixes things for his brother. He shares his food with him. He gives him all he can, but sometimes he wants things for himself.

He looks in the yard
and sees an elephant outside!

He sneaks out past
his mum and goes
up to the elephant.

He jumps on its back for a ride.

As they ride, he spots a shape under a tree in the plains. It is his brother! He crouches on the ground when he plays some games, but is he playing now?

One of the elephants runs at his brother. He starts to run, but the elephant is so much faster than he is.

Can he get away?

His brother gets up to the high branches. Good move!

He hopes that he will be able to stay safe up there.

He does not know what he would do if his brother got hurt.

He tells his elephant to step on it!

They have to make it to the tree so that he can save his brother.

Not far now.

The elephant grabs a branch and tries to pull it down. An elephant is so strong.
Can it make the strong
branch crack?

He takes his elephant
over to the tree and jumps up onto another branch. He reaches out to his brother. Can he help him?

The mad elephant coils its trunk around him and pulls him out of the tree. He calls out for his brother. He still wants to keep him safe.

His mum wakes him up from his dream. He was calling out in real life.

She is so glad to hear
that he cares so much
for his brother.
