

Book Nook

Jill wants to spend some time at her grandmother's house. It is full of books that they can share. It is like a book nook!

Jill goes right up to a bookshelf.
She thinks that old books have a great smell to them. She likes how they feel as well.

Her grandmother sits in her armchair with a teacup in hand. It makes her grandmother smile when Jill is keen to read. It is a love that they can bond over.

Jill asks what book they are going to read. She does not mind what sort, as her grandmother can make any book fun.

Her grandmother says that she has three books on the go, but she wants Jill to pick a new book for today.

Jill picks a small, brown book with a thin spine. Her grandmother smiles. She tells Jill that she always picks the best books.

Jill's grandmother starts to tell the story. She likes to pause as she reads so that Jill can think about what is happening.

Jill's grandmother also likes to make up her own parts of the story. Jill likes her grandmother's parts the best.

Before they know it, they have finished the book. Jill's grandmother asks what she likes about it. Is there anything that she would change?

No, Jill loved it! She gives the book a hug. The best thing about books is that they can take you off to new worlds.

S1

Bookbot books are free, high quality decodable readers based on the order of sounds introduced by the Bookbot Scope & Sequence.

We're delighted to offer them to you to download and print at no cost. But it would be great if you could link to our page www.bookbotkids.com/free-books from your school's website so others can enjoy our free books.

We believe in creating an extensive library of decodable readers to inspire and bring confidence to children learning to read. You can find out about our mission at www.bookbotkids.com.

Adapted from "Book Nook" by Bookbot and Bookbot. Licensed under CC BY 4.0.

The text has been rewritten to cater to readers at varying stages of their reading proficiency, aiding in the development of their reading skills. Illustrations have been modified to comply with the specific prerequisites set by the reading levels. This adaptation has not received official approval from the original author or illustrator.

You are free to copy and redistribute the material in any medium or format, provided you adhere to the license terms stipulated under CC BY 4.0.

Please provide appropriate attribution by providing a link to Room to Read and Bookbot.

www.bookbotkids.com

Copyright © 2023 by Bookbot