

What's the Scoop on Pee and Poop?

written by
BEL RICHARDSON

illustrated by
SAMIDHA GUNJAL

Pat the rat
wants to know,
where does pee
and poop go?

Down the pipe. He will get the scoop
on pee and poop.

Pat finds a pipe rat. It knows where to go.

Pat gets soap
on him. He must wash
off.

The pipes send the water to a big pond. The gloop is thick. A grate gets the big bits of junk.

The water goes on. The pipe rat takes Pat to the next part.

The tanks all have jobs. This one sprays the water on stuff that sucks up the bad bits.

Some parts of the job take time. The big bits of filth sink to the base of this tank. Then the water goes on.

The waste will get put on crops that we will eat as food, so it must not make us sick.

The water
that comes out will not
hurt plants
or animals.

At the end, the water is safe to go into the sea.

Pat is back!
And he knows
where pee
and poop go.
