

BOP

illustrated by
Dewi Tri Kusumah

It is nearly time for the bull parade. Bop is excited to learn the steps.

'Watch what we do
and follow along,'
says his big brother.

Bop has to bend
his knees and his wrists.

But he keeps getting it wrong. He can't seem to bend the way the other bulls do.

Bop wrestles with his body, trying to get it to do what he wants.

He needs to dance like the other bulls in the parade.

'Don't worry,' says his big brother.

'I had to learn it once
too. You will get it.'

When the bulls are in a line, Bop wrecks it by tripping on his own feet.

'It just takes time to learn it. Keep practising,' says his brother.

'Listen to the music and move your body to the beat,'
says big brother bull.

And when Bop
listens carefully,
he can hear the
beat and feel
how his body is supposed to move.

When the bull
parade arrives,
Bop is the best
dancer of the group.

He listens to the
beat and moves
his body in time.

'See I knew you would get it,' his big brother says as Bop taps and
bends to the music.
